

I am strongly in favor of the customer being allowed to keep their phone number if they change cell phone service providers! The problems associated with changing numbers are not only an inconvenience, they can be detrimental to businesses and personal lives. People have to be notified, documents have to be changed and so on. If regular phone companies allow the number to be transferred, why not wireless carriers? Its called holding the customer hostage via the problems created by changing the number. Please vote to allow wireless customers to keep their numbers if they change carriers. Thank You!
